Jane Lydia Kilgore

December 11, 1962 - January 27, 2026

Jane-our Jaynie passed away on January 27, surrounded by church friends and family, following a stroke and related complications. She was preceded in death by her parents, Viola Iris Koch and James Bentley Hite. Jane is survived by her brother, James Kilgore, and his children, Ethan and Izzy Belden, along with several half-brothers and half-sisters across the country.

Jane carried kindness in her heart and shared it freely. A sweet and simple soul, she always found something to smile about and never forgot a name. She genuinely cared about others and took interest in their lives.

Though she had no children of her own, Jane lovingly supported many families through childcare, home cleaning, and caregiving. Giving came naturally to her. She will be deeply missed by all whose lives she touched.

In Jane's honor, donations may be made to local food shelves or pet adoption organizations.

“ Jaynie, I know how much you were looking forward to the assisted-living place you moved into. I'm so sorry you never got the chance to truly enjoy it—especially with the pain you were in that first day. I know you're no longer in pain now. Please give our mom a big hug for me.

I will forever love you and the kindness you shared with everyone who knew you.

*Love always,
Jimmy*
