

Jane Onan

January 29, 2006

Onan, Jane Hanan Died January 20, 2006 in Fort Myers, FL. She is survived by her husband, David W. Onan II of Fort Myers; son, David W. Onan III & daughter-in-law, Patricia McElroy of Minneapolis, MN; daughter, Karen Jane Virga of Plymouth, MN; grandchildren, David and Charles Onan of Excelsior, MN; Emily Bulen of Plymouth; MN; a sister, Nancy O'Reilly of Mountain Lakes, NJ; and a sister-in-law, Dolores Hanan of Chicago, IL. Jane was born Janemarie Barbara Hanan, at home, in the Bronx, NY on August 3, 1933 to Arthur and Gertrude Hanan. The second of three children, Donald, Jane and Nancy, Jane attended New York schools and worked briefly at Ward-Leonard Electric in Mount Vernon, NY. She married David Onan II, of Minneapolis, November 20, 1954. Jane loved to ski and was an active partner in boating with her husband. She liked to sculpture in wood and stone. She loved dogs, Jujubes, especially the black ones, mocha moo-lattes, travel, her church, motorcycle riding, and most people. Jane had twinkling eyes and a big smile. She was an ardent volunteer. In Minneapolis, University of Minnesota Heart Hospital, Hennepin County General Hospital, and St. Mary's Treatment Center. She served on the boards of North Memorial Hospital, Perspectives Inc, West Health, Service League of General Hospital, Loring Nicollet Community Center, North Memorial Community Foundation, and served on boards and volunteered at Hennepin Methodist Church. In Fort Myers, FL she served as a Stephen Minister at Covenant Presbyterian Church. Still, this remarkable lady always put her family first. Much of what Jane was,

Parkinson's took away, except the twinkling eyes and the big smile. Ultimately, it took that too. There will be a memorial service in the sanctuary of Hennepin Avenue United Methodist Church at 11 AM on Monday, January 30. No flowers, please. Memorials to the National Parkinson Foundation or donor's choice. Washburn-McReavy Funeral Chapels 612-377-2203
