Janice Joan Kirschbaum

January 11, 1944 - May 22, 2025

Janice Joan Kirschbaum, 81, passed away peacefully at home on May 22, 2025, surrounded by the love of her family.

Born in Minneapolis on January 11, 1944, Janice was a true social butterfly who made friends with everyone she met. Her warmth, charm, and infectious spirit left a lasting impression on all who had the pleasure of knowing her.

Janice had a deep passion for teaching, dedicating much of her life to educating and inspiring others. Outside the classroom, she found joy in gardening, where she nurtured both plants and peace, and in shopping, where her keen eye for beauty and style always shined.

She is survived by her devoted husband, Stu; her children, Heidi and Jeremy; and her beloved grandchildren, Elisa, Madeline, Cody, Dylan, and Declan.

The family requests privacy during this time of mourning. A celebration of Janice's life will be held in the near future, where friends and loved ones can gather to honor her memory, her laughter, and the love she so freely gave.

Her vibrant spirit, generous heart, and boundless energy will be forever cherished.

“Jan was something of a magician in the kitchen. She loved nothing more than bringing people together over a glorious meal. And when she was a guest in someone else’s home, she didn’t just show up with a dish to pass—oh no. Jan arrived with a giant box filled with bags and bowls of pre-prepped yumminess. I loved watching her work her magic in the kitchen. She was my personal Julia Child. I will miss her deeply and will share her stories through her recipes.

“I can't imagine going to our Silverwood coffee group without that cheery voice who plunks herself down with either: well, golly or whatever, whatever. She was the one who reached out to the person alone; she was the one who must have had as many granddogs as grandkids. We shared stories of the heart. God bless your shining soul.
