Joan was smart, artistic, loved ♥ animals and was NEVER without a book. I suspect Joan's first words sounded like a whinny or a nicker. We were both famous for bringing home "lost dogs" that we captured and hauled home with a rope. After high school she worked briefly, Really Briefly as a bank teller. It was not for her so she packed her bags and headed out west to hang out where the cowboys and horses roamed. 🐾 Next, she headed to beautiful Vermont where one of her best friends lived. Many years later she was laid off and returned to Minnesota. Went to work at Seagate, bought a house and added a cute Sheltie and two cats for company. The last several years she fed two wild cats that she called Liberty and Cookie. She had warm cat houses for them. She was also a book lover 📖 and collected enough books to take up an entire shelf at Nokomis Library. Did I forget to mention how much she loved to 🛍️ shop?

At last she's at peace. I'm pretty sure she's connected with friends and family and found her beloved pets. We will miss her but she left us with lots and lots of memories. ❤️

“ I was one of those little girls who dreamed of having a horse so when cousin Joan offered to let me ride her horse, I was thrilled. I don't remember how young I was or what we did that day, but the memory of that chance to sit on a horse has always made me grateful to her!
