“ Mom, It's been a long time. Life has been a struggle to say the least. I am hanging in there though. I feel like I am treading water barely afloat. I have done some things that will hopefully help get me out of this funk. I can't stop thinking about you lately and it's like your in my head. I heard you loud and clear last night and I understand it. Linsey has been going through a very hard time. Her youngest daughter Sydney just had a heart transplant. Now both her girls have had them. I hope that you watch over them. Linsey needs it, it is a lot for any mother to go through. I hope that you can watch over them. I also hope you continue watching over me, I am trying to make you proud but damn sometimes life is a pain. I will continue doing what I can to better my life. You should see Andy, he is way big. He is so grown up, he even has his own cell phone. I sure do miss you! I love you and miss you! Jamie

“ Aunti Jo Jo, I do really miss you and even though people think it gets easier ever day it dont. Your all up there watching over us down here and all I want is to be able to give you all a hug and to be able to see you again. Not one family function goes by that I don't miss you and wish you were there. I still wait every time for you and grandma and spencer to walk through the door. Please give every one hugs for me and thank you for being the best aunt a niece could ask for. With lots of love always and forever, gone but not forgotten!

“ Mom,It's been almost a year since I wrote. I did graduate and I continued on into my bachelor's. I can't let this site go because it's the last thing I have. Let me tell ya times have been hard. I have been on an emotional roller coaster from hell. I struggle every day but I am holding strong to the fake it til you make it slogan. I am trying to look at the positive around me but to be honest it's an inside struggle. I am doing what I can to try to stay level headed. I do miss you horribly. I have to say it sucks. I love you!

“ Mom, I miss you so much. They say that time makes it better, but I find that to be untrue. I miss you more every day. Andy misses you, he is still very emotional about it. Delores seen a psychic and he said you are enjoying teasing us and that you are definitely at our house. I am doing my best in school and graduate in November. I feel you with me everyday. There has been a few issues lately and Grandpa was sick, I am glad you watched over him, he was very very lucky. Thanks mom for watching over all of us, I love you and miss you more than I ever thought possible. Jamie

“ Hey Joannelt's been awhile since I wrote last but man has my life been insane. I am praying for some strength right now and you were one of the strongest people I knew, so here I am. Madi is going through some tough stuff. It has been a very long rollercoaster ride and we are far from done with it. Have a talk with the man upstairs, will ya? Tell Him that we need His healing for Madi. Miss you!

“ Hey JoJo, I have a lot of dreams about you Sis, I miss you every day. I miss most our talks and saying to you "I gotta go Jo". I hope you and Spencer are having a blast, playing lots of cribbage. Having lots of laughs. Mean while I miss you both so much and Mom too but I know you are taking care of Spencer, I want him here with us, I miss him so much. Jamie is a good young woman, I know Jo you would be proud of her and Justin both. They both helped the kids at the funeral and Jamie and Spencer were close, they are all missing Spencer and this family has not had a break from loss. I am sure Terri is there with all of you. What an inspiring young woman she was and very courageous. I don't think Jamie knows the effect Terri had on her. Jamie really grew up in helping her Aunt Terri the last months of her life, I didn't know Terri well but I had a great respect for her and if she impacted me that way just imagine what Jamie took from her courage and strength. Well Sis please take care of my boy I will see you when it's my time, till then theirs children, grand kids, neices, nephews, great nephews, oh by the way your little guy Andy, what a great little guy, I try to get him and my guy Casey together as often as I can. He's such a sweet little guy I love him very much, I love you Sis and miss you always.

“ Mom, I have to say that life has totally sucked in the past month or so. I have made it through, though it has been hard. Spencer passed away on June 22nd. I can't believe it, it still seems so unreal. I worry about everyone and myself. It is scary how this stuff just keeps happening. He was so young and I know he is with you now, but damn I never expected that. I am really close to felicia and Ashley now so that helps, but this is just so horrible. Please watch out for all of us we could all use it for sure. I miss you and hope you are all together. I Love You, Jamie

“ I know you were there when she took her vows-everyone knew that-but I just wanted to tell you that your daughter was beautiful and you should be so proud of the person she is today! (I know you are) She is truckin along like the survivor she is and we are all there for her so don't worry. I will always be there no matter what..she takes care of me too. And in case you didn't notice-I cried enough tears at the ceremony for you and me both!! It was so beautiful and we miss you still every day but especially on days like that.

“ February 24, 2006

Today was a special day for us. Our daughter exchanged her wedding vows. Although at times throughout the day (and even the months proceeding) I felt awkward because you weren't there, it suddenly occurred to me that you were there. You were there in the hearts and minds of everyone, and that thought gave me a great deal of comfort. Our baby is all grown up and she is doing well. I think her and Justin make a great couple.

You are in my thoughts.

Love Donny

“ Joanne it has been almost a year since you left, It was your Birthday and I grieved, sometimes it's just to much to bare, I am keeping up with Dad and Lisa, but sometimes I feel I fall short, I know what you would say and sometimes feel like I can hear you saying it. I will take all these wonderful things people have said in April and the small urn I have of you and invite whom ever wants to come to the house to share in a memorial for you and read them all to you, my prayer is that you knew how very much you were loved and how terribly you are missed.

All my love, your sister Mary

"Special" is a word that is used to describe something one-of-a-kind, like a hug or a sunset, or a person who spreads love, with a smile or kind gesture.

“ Jo Jo

You and I were the best of friends. We have spent alot of time together recently, comforting each other with the losses or issues the both of us were having. You always told it as you seen it, never holding back. Although sometimes it would hurt to hear what you said, I always respected you for being you. You always gave me plenty to think about. We share a beautiful daughter and you need not worry about her, as she shares traits from the both of us. She is strong, loving and also straight forward. A survivor if you will. I will be there for her when she needs me. Joanne you are gone but not forgotten, and you will always have a place in my heart. Thank you for being my friend. I love you. Your friend, Donny
