“ He was to me a larger than life man, he always was there for me and Amanda when we needed him or Helen or Jeff for anything no matter how small or big, our talks on issues of the day whether it be the weather or as deep as politics I will never forget and will cherish, him and his family was not only just our neighbors they were and still are my family, so John I miss you man, you were not just a friend you were a brother me and Amanda will miss you.
