“ First Christmas without my brother. We have been getting together since our mother passed away for Christmas. It took a few years for us to become friends in our adult lives even though we both loved each other since childhood. We became roommates in the 90's. We went fishing and hunting many times. Jon was a good friend and brother. I had also employed him to fix a water damage job at our home in New Brighton for our insurance. He was suffering from COPD and he said that's about it, no more working for him. I'm glad for the time we had together and I know time will heal this pain I'm feeling this Christmas. Thank you all for your well wishes and sympathy,

“ It was an especially beautiful day and Jon was visiting us in CDA. I gave him a ride around town in my 87 Camaro IROC as we reminisced and took in the sights. Neither of us ever forgot about this experience and we talked about it each time we'd get together since. There wasn't anything particularly special about it...but it was family spending time and enjoying each other. It's those little things that always mean so much! I will miss you Jon Bradley, you are a good man.
