“ Mike was my big brother and godfather. Since he was so much older than me (24 years), he was always surrounded in magic and mystery for me. I mostly remember his homecomings.

I remember how our family dog Max would absolutely lose his mind with joy when Michael came home and took him running.

I remember Mike taking 6- or 7-year old me for a hike in the woods and cooking me brown rice burgers over an open fire on The Rocks behind the family house.

I remember his trumpet.

I remember running to the kitchen when Mike came home from a trip and proudly showing him my stuffed koala, only to run and hide when I discovered that he had brought a friend home with him. I remember Mike gently coming to find and reassure me.

I remember driving in the snow to the Mass Pike entrance in Sturbridge to pick Mike up on Christmas Eve.

I will always remember Mike as kind, patient, loving, and ready to laugh. He had a spirit that opened my eyes to a world that could be.

“ I met Mike shortly after he married my dearest friend Judy and I liked him immediately. He was witty, a self-made craftsman, a scholar at heart and a very decent man. John and I enjoyed very much their visit to Mexico to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary and we had the best of times during their brief stay at our house. We send our love and deepest sympathy to Judy, Geoff, Cristina, Matt and John, as well as to their families.

Oh, Cristina, how wonderful to read your tribute. I'll never forget how you got me through the death of my grandmother when I couldn't be in MN.

“ I remember one of our several visits as kids admiring a metal statue of an eagle Uncle Mike had beautifully crafted. As kids sometimes do, I managed to bend the tip of one of the wings and I was worried sick about making him upset or getting in trouble! Oh no, not Uncle Mike...he handled it so sweetly and if he was upset, it certainly didn't show one bit...what a relief! I didn't have enough occasions to share with Uncle Mike, but of those we did, I will forever remember a gentle and loving person.

“ remember visiting cold MN as a kid (from CA) in the winter. I remember playing out in the snow with cousins and going into the house which was so warm...not just warm temperature, but the warmth of uncle Mike, aunt Judy and cousins. I remember seeing the wood working and being very impressed. 🙏🙏🙏😭😭😭❤️❤️
