“ You get to know a person by their actions. The first 'interaction' I had with Joe was probably when our eyes met at one of the reunions. He had that sly smile working, and I figured it was worth talking about, so I walked up, and the first words he spoke were 'It wasn't fair.' I knew exactly what he was referring to, because 4/5 of my eighth grade basketball team became obsolete when we merged with Joe's team. I got over it pretty quickly back then when I saw Joe play, so I thought it was remarkable that he remembered and made such a thoughtful comment decades later. Back at you, Joe. It wasn't fair.

“ Joe was one of my biggest supporters of moving on and doing better. Because of him I have and I'm lucky I just not to long ago ran into him in Albertville and was able to say thank you and him saying he was proud of me meant the world to me. He had a huge heart and was one of the kindest and most honest people I had the pleasure to work with in a long time. My condolences to his family and friends on your loss.

“ I just loved Joe's laugh, I can still hear him telling a funny story and laughing louder than anyone, then saying "you get it?..." . He was always interested in learning about how others were doing, such a big heart, I will really miss him. We are there for anything you need Nance.

“ My heart is broken with the news of Joes sudden passing, Joe was always there to help. When my daughter was married we had no one to watch the shop, Joe said yes you do and he covered a double shift and wouldn't let me give him a nickel. Thats the kind of guy Joe was and he will live on in my heart . Nancy and Jaden my heart breaks for you.

Love, Ned and Family
