“ I have worked as a server at New Perspective for the last eight months. In that time, I got to know Joyce well. I saw her during all my shifts and always looked forward to serving her. She was sweet as pie and so easygoing. She often joked about her feet not being able to touch the floor when she sat in our big chairs. :) I, and everyone else at New Perspective, will miss her dearly and wish her family the best during this trying time.

Love,
