“ Justin will be greatly missed here at Veritiv. While he was only with the company a short time, he made many, many friends. One of our employees wrote the following for another loved one who passed and has asked to share it also with Justin's family and friends:

"Looking up into the sky we see the colors of blue and white though at times those skies are gray no one knows what lies beyond space Heaven is there from what they say, but no one knows how far away. Why can't Heaven be here on earth? Why can't the world just be re-birthed? We all wish for many Things, but that would be the wish for me....."

My condolences to his family...."
