I offer my sincerest and deepest sympathy to Kathy's family and friends for their loss.

I had the distinct priviledge of working with Kathy after she had suffered a stroke. She contacted me back in 2013 and I'll never forget the first time I worked with her. She had done a picture of flowers in a vase. When I held it up for her to see, she started to cry. When I asked why she was crying, she said she couldn't believe she had done it. She didn't think she could do anything anymore. They were tears of joy. That was the begining of our friendship.

I was able to work with her on and off for approx 5 years. I always looked forward to our painting sessions. She was very proud of her work and was always excited to share the results with family and friends. Inevitably, during every session, she made me smile or laugh. Despite her physical limitations, she had a positive attitude and we shared lots of meaningful conversation about life, politics and faith. I will always have a fondness in my heart for Kathy.
