“ Rest peacefully baby girl. My heart goes out to her family and friends. I've known Kayla since she was 5 or 6. I would always come over to her house to spend time with her sister Kirstie when I was in middle school. It's so sad to see she's gone now.

“ I had the honor and privilege working with Kayla when she was 17 at one of the inpatient hospitals in mpls. I was a new grad & it's safe to say Kayla literally had my back & always got after other kids for trying to mess with me lol. Truly one of my favorite kids I ever got to work with & I would look at her Facebook just hoping she was okay throughout the years. Kayla I'm so so sorry this world failed you. You deserved so much more out of your life. From the looks of it you made such an impact on so many lives, specifically other girls you met throughout your stay in different facilities. It was easy for you to see someone was struggling & to comfort them. Your heart was gold, & even if you had made mistakes in your lifetime you have been forgiven because you lived most of it out of survival. This one hurts honey! Forever in my thoughts ❤️

“ Met Kayla at a residential facility at a young age 5 years ago. As a staff member, it was very easy to see that Kayla was a lost soul, searching so deeply to find meaning and purpose in the world. My deepest condolences to the family, and may she rest in heavenly peace. 💕
