“ My first meeting I could tell Ken was a proud cheerful character and very authentic. Following our initial meeting he sent me several poems of his and when I called to follow up he verified I received them.

Of course , I assured him I did and he espoused the great meaning of his poems and how he really enjoyed creating them from his mind to his hands.

So I hope we all can get a collection of his poems to remind us all of Ken on this joyful day as God greets Ken with a smile and says , Ken -you were a great man to your family and friends and faith filled to the very end remember old #7 may you go rest in peace knowing you did your best to make this place better for all of us my friend we hope to see you in heaven - God Bless you today and everyday and thanks for sharing your gifts with us - until we meet again my friend look out over us and guide us home to be with you and our creator! Old #7 enjoy your time in heaven you deserve the best my friend life never ends.
