“ I remember you so often and everything you have taught me as being a women; from cooking to not accepting anyone into your life, because people will take your kindness for weakness. My favorite phrase of yours, "you know where they will get sympathy from me, between sh*t and syphallis and her funky wagnal!" I love you honey so much baby! I also remember the day you called me after having Renee and telling me that she was an old soul. Your wisdom was an extreme gift and I was grateful for you in my life when I had you. Til we meet again.
