

Lawrence Allen White

January 28, 1931 - February 17, 2025

Lawrence "Bud" White passed away on February 17, 2025, at the age of 94. He was born on January 28, 1931, to Louis and Helen White.

Bud proudly served in the U.S. Air Force during the Korean War, demonstrating his dedication and commitment to his country. Beyond his service, he was a talented musician and the bandleader of the Buddy White Orchestra, sharing his passion for music with many.

He was married to Beverly Hintz, and together they built a loving family. Bud is survived by his children, Emily (Scott Beardsley) and Dean and Tera, as well as his cherished grandchildren, Louis, Ozzy, and Emily. He is also remembered by his sisters Carol Peterson, Patricia Olson, and Lorraine (Bruce Sanborn). Many nieces, nephews and friends

Bud's legacy lives on through his music and the love he shared with those around him. May his memory bring comfort to all who knew him.

“ A tough day for the old 45th Place North neighborhood. I still remember Bud, only a few years ago, playing football in the backyard with me, my son Michael and Louie. Thank you Bud for being a great Boy Scout leader and a truly great neighbor. Tony Allivato

“ Buddy White. A sweet, caring, generous, respected gentleman of the highest degree. You were my instructor and guardian on the band stand so many years ago. Your talent and humor was enjoyed by so many. Thank you Bud for all the great memories, (And for picking up my tab at Perkins at 2AM!)
