“ *My brother-in-law , Lewis, was a very kind and understanding man. My sister was blessed to have him as a husband. He was so patient and wonderfully helpful thru all her years with her battle of MS. And if you ever needed directions to somewhere, he would know how to get you there !!!

“ *Lewis was my in my life for 37 years. He was my husband Brian's dad and become a father to me also. He loved his wife Darlene so much and I know he missed her dearly. He learned, in his later years who he could really count on and it was painful to watch that happen. It was hard to watch his decline and watch his sons see the painful realities of Alzheimer's and dementia. Brian and David however, never gave up on him and were there through these difficult years. As hard as it was, I'm glad my kids could see how you don't give up on family no matter how hard it gets. Thank you both for being caring and loving sons. Your dad (and Mom) raised you well. Lewis and Darlene are together again in a much better place, I can picture their smiles and that helps me feel better. Proud to have been Lewis Archerd's daughter in law,
