“ Linda and I remember Lorraine as such a sweet lady with a calming/patient presence. She and her husband Roy were neighbors of ours on Lake Ida, Monticello, MN. Roy was quite a joke teller, some a bit risqué, and Lorraine would stand by with her pleasant smile and sometimes just shake her head as if, here he goes again. It was so cute to watch the two of them team up to keep their home, yard and lakeshore in immaculate shape. We were so blessed to have Lorraine and Roy as neighbors.

“ I remember Lorraine fishing off of the dock; Roy baiting the hook and taking off fish. Lorraine catching them with a cane pole. She loved to fish. I also remember being invited to share their afternoon snack of, black licorice and lemonade. One beautiful September afternoon. They were sitting on the apron of the pole barn in lawn chairs after completing some work out there. Many memories of them at lake Ida.
