“ I learned that Peggy had passed while helping a newly found cousin unravel the mystery of who her dad's birth father was. When I saw that her sister had a DNA match to Peggy I knew that it was someone descended from our common ancestors, Andrew Jordan and Catharine Gough.

Peggy and I met through an internet inquiry that I posted on a genealogy web site. She was so generous in giving me information about the Jordan's and Patterson's.

She copied and mailed to me her copy of "Edmond and Margaret (Leamy) Patterson and Their Descendants" compiled and edited by their great-granddaughter, Betty Patterson.

Peggy put me in contact with her sister, Isabel and it was the information these two had so generously given me that I was able to help our newfound cousin confirm her grandfather through DNA.

Though I never met Peggy in person, her emails and letters were delightful. My favorite came after I had told her that my Fitzgerald and Harrington information came from Carol Ann Correa. Attached is a page of emails I kept with her response.

The picture on this memorial page is lovely.

Rest well, my cousin and genealogy friend.
