“ With Leonard & Marguerite being my Godparents, they were both two special people to me. My middle name, Lee, is a namesake of Leonard, and for that I am grateful that Leonard’s first name wasn’t Alluitious or Erving. Birthdays and Christmas I always looked forward to especially because Leonard & Marguerite always gave me such nice gifts. I loved Marguerite’s laugh, it was very distinct and so contagious. The one thing that impressed me about Marguerite was that she always appeared to me to be a very smart, witty, but very classy lady. Quick-witted she was because she had to be, married to a smart guy like Leonard. I always looked forward to the 4th of July celebrations at Big Fish Lake when the Leonard & Marguerite Maile family would come and visit because with the rambunctious 4 Maile boyds I’d finally have someone to share the blame with. All I had to do was tell Sue, “Keith did it,” and off she’d go yelling at Keith. Yep, Marguerite sure had her hands full with those 4 boys...and I felt a bit sorry for Sue, being the only girl among 4 guys who, like the 4 Hoffarth boys, pulled more shenanigans than they should’ve. Sue and my sister JoAnn should get together some day and share stories...then again, maybe not... because I’m sure I’d be the cause of many of them. But Marguerite was always so good about maintaining control of her brood. I think Ida and Marguerite commiserated a lot about how to control 4 rambunctious boys because they were both in the same situation. So, I bow to you, Marguerite, in honor of you today, thanking you for being such a wonderful, happy, positive, loving wife to your husband and mother to your wonderful children, and a dear, sweet Godmother to me. You are home now, Godmother...you are home. God bless you...I will see you again! Richard Lee Hoffarth
