“ Andrea and I were looking for our very first house and we were a little picky and we had just enough money. We called Kevin’s mom (what we called her) and in no time she found our first home. Two days later we were told by construction company our house was 6 inches too long for an end property. 6 inches!! Then a few other rules popped up. We decided against that lot. Within 2 days Kevin’s mom found our lot and our new home was built. We were very appreciative of her hard work in finding that home and the memories that came from it. She also reached out to me for a favor many years later and I was more than happy to oblige. Because of our history I always felt a bond , getting a hug every time I went and saw Kevin. I hope that God is helping to comfort all those who are reaching out in prayer. For all those that loved her!!!!
