*Mark,
I will miss all the lunches we had together debating politics and working through all of life's challenges. You are missed dearly.

“ *Jill,
You and Mark are a couple of the most kind and loving souls. I am so thankful for knowing you both. Mark was a man of many talents, from techie computer knowledge to gardening. He was the kind of person you always knew you could always count on. Nice to know he's home and waiting for us and not suffering anymore. Wish he were still here though with us. Will never ever forget either of you. Friends in the heart are never apart.
With sincere condolences,
Gene and Sandy Hormann*

“ Thank you Mark for the memories. Your silly jokes and stories always made me laugh simply because they came from you. Even though they would go on and on and on forever, they would always come full circle and the ending would make perfect sense. I loved it when you told all those stupid stories...

I'm sorry when I threw and hit you with my 100 mph fast ball (ok you're right it was only 50 mph) right in the eye with that squishy ball as you were cold calling your client that day at work. It was seriously a wild pitch and I meant to only whiz it by your head. Only you would continue to talk to the client on the phone without missing a beat. You always said you were going to get even with me but I knew you never would because that was simply wasn't your nature. You could never harm anyone or anything - I always admired you for that.

*I was proud I was able to help you catch your personal best walleye - 28 inches in my boat! I'm sorry it took me over 10 minutes to put you on that fish! The look on your face was priceless when you said you had fished all your life and that was your biggest walleye. ;-)
Little did we realize at the time that would be one of your last fish that you would ever catch. I will forever cherish that memory and the photo.*

I promise I will do my best to help you get Ron Gardenhire fired from the Twins since that was you only request you gave to me before you died. Of all the things... you only asked for that. You were so strong my friend.

Thanks for always being there for me - especially in trying times. I'm proud to have known you and honored that I was your friend.

Rest in peace Marky - I'm sure going to miss you.

“ Mark is a good man that will be missed by me and no doubts his family. My condolences to his family. I remember our conversations that he and I had that turned our business relationship into a friendship. In July, he asked me and a Men's group I attend to pray for him - I know that he is being well taken care of. Jill - you are in our prayers.
