They moved to Mount Vernon, Illinois, where John was a teacher and then to Woodstock, Illinois, where John also taught and they raised their family. While there, Jo earned a bachelor's degree in education from Northern Illinois University. Upon retirement, Jo and John relocated to Winchester, WI on South Turtle Lake where they lived for nearly 40 years and enjoyed the Wisconsin Northwoods. Jo was active in her community. They stayed busy helping others and traveling the world with friends. Jo was a long-time member of the Northwoods Ski Touring Association and Lady Yakkers kayaking club. “ I worked with Jo as her physical therapist when she was a resident at waters of Eden prairie. Jo had such a good sense of humor and made me laugh every single time I saw her. I loved her quick wit and her funny stories. She will be truly missed by so many.

Than you so much for sharing. I have so many of the pics that Dad had of the time spent with both your mom and dad. Your parents and family were a big part of my parents life and us kids. All the time you spent together up north together with friends.. it was a big part of Pete and Mary Ann's life. Now they are together again and can really enjoy their life. My thoughts and prayers are with you and your family. ❤️🙏❤️
