Jane helped my book Lochloosa Lake complete with details about the area, culture, and history of Hawthorne/Lochloosa. While we visited for the book signing tour, Jane treated us as her family with love and hospitality (feeding and hosting us several overnights at her house), even enjoying a nice meal at one of my favorite restaurants The Yearling (in Cross Creek).

We kept in touch a couple of times over the last few years but hadn't spoken to Jane since last winter or so, but we kept talking and thinking about her. Then, today (8-28-13) I finally called her cell and home number but they no longer belonged to her. I called her work number and spoke to a dear friend of hers of 30 years who shared the sad news of our friend Jane's passing. We send our love and condolences to her family including daughter Ruth (whom we met while visiting a few years ago), friends, and those who knew her in the Hawthorne/Lochloosa area. She is missed.
