

Maxine Morris Lawlor

November 8, 2007

Lawlor, Maxine Elliot Morris (nee Walker) Maxine Elliot Walker passed away peacefully on November 6, 2007 at the age of 94. She was born on December 22, 1912 in Atlanta, GA to Jane Louise and Harry M. Walker. She was preceded in death by her husband James T. (Buddy) Lawlor. A devout Christian, she was a member of the Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church in Atlanta before moving to Minnesota in 1988 to be closer to her family. Maxine loved and worshipped her Lord Jesus Christ, and through that love, never feared death. She knew that heaven would be a special realm, and believed that when her time came, that she would take her rightful place as a servant of the Lord. Maxine was an accomplished seamstress who also enjoyed arts and crafts. Holidays were a favorite time of year for her. While Christmas and Easter always were the occasions that were closest to her heart, she took great joy in Halloween, and would dress in costume for the occasion, to the merriment of those closest to her. She leaves one daughter, Rosalie Jane, and her husband, Tom Collins. She adored and appreciated her loving grandsons, Michael, Mark (Melissa) and Marty. Maxine also delighted in her namesake, her great-granddaughter, Lauren Maxine Collins. A kind and gentle soul, she will be dearly missed by many nieces, nephews and friends. While her daughter may have been able to take Maxine out of the South, she could never take the South out of Maxine. Memorial service Friday, November 9 at 4 PM Friendship Village, 8100 Highwood Dr., Bloomington, MN. Maxine will be laid to rest at the Westview Cemetery, 1680 Westview Dr., Atlanta, GA,
