“ I am sorry for the loss of your father, son, brother and uncle. I treasure my 15 years of memories with Mike. The pandemic, distance and other factors kept us physically apart since February. We connected almost daily by phone and text right up to a few days before his stroke. I will always treasure the dozen red roses he sent this year for Valentine's Day and the numerous gifts throughout the years. He's now beyond the pain and suffering and is having a joyful reunion with his mother and others in heaven.

“ I had just found a picture of Mike holding me in my fifties Halloween costume in our front entry on Greenview. I more than likely gave him a few pieces of my loot! Mike the Wild kidja as our dad referred to him or Viellewski as my brothers called him is remembered for me as a joyful kind man. Maybe with a thought or two up his sleeve but harmless and brought much laughter to us all. Rest in the arms of Christ Michael.
