“ Albeit this note is late, I just found out. I was talking about him yesterday and Dugan said you need to reach out. Mel I am so sorry I let life get in the way of spending time with you after David's passing. Please forgive me. You are now reunited with the love of your life and you two have certainly found your place for martinis. I was honoured to have known you Mel and I will always treasure our special times together whether your place our mine, cocktails, dinners theatre. What gorgeous memories.

“ Milton was my mother's, Ellen Voeth, dearest friend. For many years he lived in the in-law unit below my mother and in the evening they would have a cocktail on the front porch. He was a dear family friend and a great source of friendship to my mom. Rest easily, Milton, you were adored.
