

Miriam Thrall Hanson

August 3, 1927 - July 26, 2021

Hanson, Miriam Christine Thrall 93, born in Marysville, Ohio, died July 26, 2021, in Bloomington, Minnesota. She graduated from Miami University with a B.A. in journalism and earned the Master of Arts (English) from the University of Minnesota. She worked in editing and marketing at Winston Press, and made many contributions to her beloved Plymouth Congregational Church. In 1975, Miriam married David Hanson, creating a blended family of seven children, her four children with William Erickson and David's three sons. Miriam was known for her positive, collaborative spirit, her love of the arts, and her commitment to equity and effective human communication. Her whimsical sense of humor and love of song stayed with her till the end. Miriam is preceded in death by parents Richard and Pauline Thrall; husband David Werner Hanson; brother Richard (and Shirley) Thrall. Miriam is survived by brother Jesse (Jane) Thrall; children Susan Erickson (John Clark), Bruce Hanson (Kate Willette), Kristin Levinson (Frank), Keith Hanson (Kellie Hunsaker), Karen Erickson, Paul Hanson (Sue), Richard Erickson (Jo); grandchildren Emily Gall (Marc), Heather Hanson (Brian Richardson), Roger Clayton (Cynthia Shaw), Miriam Erickson (Jake), Josh Hanson, Christian Hanson, Danny Erickson, Leah Webster, Erik Hanson, Kevin Hanson; great-grandchildren Charlotte Richardson, Soren Richardson. Deep thanks to the health care staff of Friendship Village and the hospice care team at Park Nicollet. Memorials in lieu of flowers (to the arts, social justice initiatives, or Plymouth Church) would honor Mim's commitments. Following medical advice in this time of pandemic, a private memorial service will take place later this fall at Plymouth Church. Washburn-McReavy.com Dawn Valley Chapel 952-941-7686
