

Miriam Segall

April 8, 1941 - July 9, 2024

Segall, Miriam. Age 83 of Minneapolis.

Miriam was a medical researcher in the Immunobiology Research Center at the University of Minnesota Medical School. Her many scientific publications reveal her contributions to transplant research, to diabetes research, to cancer research, and to the study of autoimmune diseases.

Her desire to use her gifts to better the world extended to the University of Minnesota Center for Jewish Studies, where she took classes over the years through the Senior Citizen Education Program. Since 2009, she has underwritten the Annual Center for Jewish Studies Community Lecture Series to honor the memory of her parents, Julia K. and Harold Segall.

Miriam was an active member of the Adath Jeshurun Congregation. She was passionate about Jewish learning and the Hebrew language. She was an eager student herself and provided generous support for rigorous learning sponsored by the congregation. She was a Torah reader who was instrumental in establishing Adath's "Holy Roller" program, maintaining the integrity of the synagogue's Torah scrolls. Miriam was dedicated to Conservative Judaism and to the State of Israel, where she long supported the Masorti (Conservative) Movement's advocacy of religious pluralism. Miriam was married to Bert Bach who passed away in 2003. She blessed the lives of many people who cared deeply about her.

Graveside service 1:00 PM Sunday, July 14 at Adath Chesed Shel Emes Cemetery, 3740 Winnetka Ave N, Crystal.

An additional memorial gathering will be planned for a later time.

Contributions in Miriam's honor are suggested to the Bach/Segall Family Fund of the Adath Jeshurun Foundation <http://Www.adathjeshurun.org/donate> and to the Segall Family Fund in the University of Minnesota Center for Jewish Studies, <http://z.umn.edu/Segall>
