“ Orville was one of my favorite uncle's. I was talking to my mom (Bev Peterson) last night about the many times our family visited Orville and Dolly in Hopkins. Dolly in her homemaker apron preparing a delish meal in the kitchen and her special Red Velvet cake; and Orville talking about his latest hunting expedition. I loved listening to his accent. I would spend hours, tucked away in their basement, paging through his "Home Craftsman" library, looking at page after page of woodworking projects. Later in my life, I was able to get an identical set. I always remember them having orange slices in the living room, in a glass "chicken" dish. Orange slices are still my favorite candy and I too own a glass "chicken" dish that is homage to Dolly and Orville. They both were cherished second parents to me and my siblings. A man devoted to his faith, his family, and his wife. He will be missed. Ya sure...
