“ Dear Bernie,
I just learned of Patty's recent death from our mutual friend, Jane Wolverton. I know from personal experience that whether death is expected or not, it is still very painful for those who survive. I am so very sorry this pain has visited you and your family, my friend.

As you might remember, Patty and I worked together in the Heart Cath Lab at the University of Minnesota Hospital and though the work was serious, we always managed to find a way to laugh and lighten the day. Our little "team" consisting of Patty, Jane, Karen and I kept things lively in and out of the lab, to be sure!

I moved to Naples, Florida in 2002 but, except for a few get-togethers early on when I came back to Minneapolis for visits, it has been many years since we had seen each other. Even so, I can still get a giggle on when remembering my dear friend and the laughter we shared.

Though Patty's physical presence is no longer here, I feel certain her wonderful spirit will remain through the stories you will continue to share with family and friends.

In sympathy and friendship...
