“ I was blessed to work for Pat when she worked at Stronghold. I was 16 and looked at her as a friend as well. She taught me all I know about cooking and running a kitchen. She had a gentle kind and loving way about her. She taught me what love looked like in a tragedy and how food can be a ministry of love. She is the one who drove me home from work the day my dad died. Within 3 hours of driving me home she returned to our home with an entire meal for our family. I am now 66 and I still remember how much love was conveyed through that act of kindness. She also used to get on the maintenance guys when they would curse and initiated the Potty Mouth jar. Every time they swore they had to contribute to the jar. Her and I would get ice cream when the jar got full enough. Pat was a joy and blessing to me. I had shared many stories about her to others in the last 50 years. Her life touched many. Thank you for sharing her with the world. Carla "Schommer" Giese
