“ I had not heard of Paul’s passing. He was a very special friend. Always full of great information and positive thoughts. Sit with him in a restaurant and he’d be making flowers out of the napkins to pass around to the ladies. Helped many many people turn their health around. Such a sad loss.

“ I remember walking in our huge garden with natural grown produce with Paul in his glory with sampling everything in season and talking how everything there was so much better than anything in the stores. One time he even ate a couple habanera and barely broke a sweat. How we loved that dear man and miss him so. Danny, Liz and Family.
