“Peggy and I shared some growing up years together and we loved the same person, her brother, my boyfriend Tim.
One really fun day we had together was probably around 1966 when we were seniors in high school, Thelma was working that day so we decided to skip school and hang out at the Robinson house. We had the whole day to ourselves and we didn't do anything unusual but it was special. Peggy could dance but I couldn't so she tried to help me, we laughed a lot about that, then we sewed on her little sewing machine, smoked a cigarette and talked all day. I last saw her in 2016 for our high school class reunion, I am glad we had that time in the car from Minneapolis to AHL to reminisce, I am sorry for the heartbreak to her family for loosing her. Please know I am praying for you.
To Peggy I will say I will have another reunion with you in heaven, where we will see Tim and I will be able to dance with you. Love
Niki
