

Robert Eugene Cavins

November 4, 1935 - October 10, 2024

Robert E. Cavins was born in Evansville, Indiana, on November 4, 1935. His parents, Clinton and Marie, were simple people with deep moral and ethical principles. Bob worked with his dad as a surveyor, when in Iowa, he met Patricia (Trish) Crane, and they married on May 12, 1956. Bob received his BA degree and later his Master's and a PhD in Electrical Engineering from Iowa State in Ames, Iowa, where they resided and had their first two children, Jeff and Jayne.

After graduating from college, the Cavins moved to Minnesota, where Bob worked at Control Data in Bloomington, MN. Much of Bob's employment dealt with microchips and lasers and was of a top-secret nature. While living in Bloomington, their third child, Leslie, was born.

Bob later became Vice President of Honeywell. He then went on to work at E.F. Johnson and FSI International. In his retirement, he enjoyed working in the electrical department at Home Depot.

Bob's past employees often commented that he was the kindest and fairest manager they had ever worked for, and that he always helped people advance in their fields.

Bob was preceded in death by his parents, Clinton and Marie Cavins, and his brothers, Daniel (Marda) Cavins and James (Hilda) Cavins.

He is survived by his wife Trish; children Jeff (Emily) Cavins, Jayne Cavins, and Leslie Cavins; grandchildren Carly (Patrick) Felicetta, Jaki Cavins, and Toni Cavins; Great-grandchildren Dominic, Francesco, and Fiona Felicetta.

Bob's interests included building projects around the home. He enjoyed making sourdough bread, fishing and golf. He and Trish belonged to a motorhome club and traveled with grandchildren around the country. Bob enjoyed flying airplanes for a number of years. He also loved math and taught advanced math at the University of Minnesota and tutored. He enjoyed spending time with Jack the family dog.

His wife, Trish, was always his top priority, just behind his Catholic faith. In addition to being a lector, Bob enjoyed his Cursillo friends at St. Hubert's in Chanhassen. He was a regular visitor to the adoration chapel.

Bob quietly passed away at home, surrounded by family.

In lieu of flowers, please consider a memorial gift to St. Hubert's Catholic School for math tutoring in honor of Bob Cavins. Make checks payable to St. Hubert's Catholic School, 8201 Main St, Chanhassen, MN 55317 and note on the check "Bob Cavins' memorial"

“ What a beautiful tribute!!! I can't stop crying because of your relationship with him and how you related it to Jesus and our Lord. It's unfortunate how many don't have Father's like yours. May God continue to bless you 🙏🙏🙏

“ Mr. Cavins, my name is Nicholas Garcia of Santa Fe, NM. An ACTS brother of mine recently share your ever so touching 10/16 Daily Reflection about your father! I am so very sorry for your loss, yet I know it brings you peace knowing that he is now in the presence of our Lord! Your father was an incredibly smart and loving man and someone our Lord is ever so proud of! Listening about him brings back so many memories of my father who I lost in Feb 2010 and about my mother who I just lost in April (both to cancer). I am only 43 yrs old and although I've handled their deaths better than I would have ever imagined, it's still very difficult! Neither of my parents were as decorated as your father in regards to their education or success in the workplace, yet they were both profound souls and worked tirelessly to provide for my sisters and I! My thoughts and prayers are with you & your family during this ever so trying time! May the Lord comfort you all and allow you to continue teaching, leading and deepening peoples faith! I would like to share w/ you my Mom's Eulogy. If you would like to read it, email me - nicholasvincargarci@gmail.com

“ Thank you so much for your incredible tribute! It brought back memories of my father and I was so blessed to have a great one like you did! I lost my father almost 8 years ago, and I still tear up thinking of him. At his funeral, I told of an incident with my sister after having a medical procedure. She drove me home and apparently I told her, "no offense, but Dad loved me the most!" I don't remember saying it but later when she told me she said her response was, "you are wrong, he loved me the most!" No better tribute than that, and isn't that how God our Father loves us? I shared your tribute with her - she is considering coming back to the Church, and I hope this helps her. I also shared it with a dear friend who did not have a good relationship with her earthly father (the one that introduced me to the Bible Timeline) and I know she will love how you connected his tribute to our relationship with our Heavenly Father. I heard the emotion in your voice and while I love the daily reflections, this is so much more! God bless you and your family!

“ I am so sorry for the loss of such a great dad. I heard you on the Daily Reflection on 10/16. What a wonderful tribute to your dad. I wasn't expecting you to say that was the day of his funeral and it brought me to tears. He raised a great son. Thank you so much for the Daily Reflection which I listen to and enjoy very much. My day would not be complete without it. You were very blessed to have such a wonderful dad. Thank you for sharing.

“ I am so sorry for Mr. Caverns loss. May God grant his peace to all who loved or knew him. I will pray for you all. May we all remember the love and kindness of our heavenly Father who loves us unconditionally. I was blessed with two wonderful, loving, kind and faithful parents who made us four children laugh, love and give faithfully with our talents and give to the church community and our neighbors. My parents are an excellent example of knowing God and helping others. My Dad worked three jobs to put us through Catholic school and college. He was our hero and is ALWAYS in my memories along with my gifted mother who has the JOY of music in her heart and shared it always with others. May God bless you Jeff and your family.

“ Your father was an amazing man.....he stood by his family, did well by them, and was a true mirror of the Father...as close as we can get in this life. I only "know" about your dad from your conversion story and the Hallow daily reflection. Sorry, I didn't know sooner Jeff. As one who knows all too well about losing a parent, I truly feel your pain. I think out of all your dad did here...all he accomplished. His biggest accomplishment was YOU.....If he didn't instill the faith in you and your family all those years, who knows, you may never have come back home. May he and all the souls of the faithfully departed rest in peace and see the face of God. Great job Mr. Cavins....You did well by Jeff and I'm sure the rest of the family too. Pray for us and rest in peace sir....

“ Dearest Jeff...I am vacationing in Hawaii and listened to your tribute to your father on Daily Reflections. My trip was to visit Pearl Harbor where my father and mother lived during the attack. Tears welled in my eyes listening to your tribute and thinking of my own father & the sacrifices he made for me and the love he shared. I miss him so and feel his presence now. You and yours are In my prayers.

“ Thank you so much for the lovely tribute to your amazing Dad. It touched my heart so much. It wasn't very long ago that my own Dad passed away. It always is so wonderful to hear about the great lives of people. So many times when I hear these stories I think how I wish I had known the person. Your description of your Dad was certainly one of them. My deepest condolences. I feel like I know you as I listen to the Daily Reflections everyday and I am deep into the Bible Timeline class. “No eye has seen, no ear has heard, and no mind has imagined what God has prepared for those who love him.” 1 Corinthians 2:9
My sincere condolences for the loss of your father.
Like CS Lewis wrote on his grief book, it feels like you' be been split in two and your own half keeps looking for the other one in vain, the pain that is created by that constant act of reaching out is what makes grieving one of the hardest things in life to go through.
However, there is Hope found in the Love, Mercy and Grace of Our sweet Jesus🙌
May you and your lovely family find solace in knowing for sure we'll see them again someday soon🙌Love in Christ. Ana Cecy

“ Dear Mr.Cavins, I am so very sorry to hear of your Father’s passing. I know the pain and loss you are feeling. I lost my Dad (Bob) In Nov. of 2015 and 3 short years later, lost my Mother in Aug. 2018, of Alzheimer’s. My Dad died of a Broken Heart. At his death bed my Mom asked where is his Family? She was the Love of his life, and she forgot who he was. So Sad. Your Father was an extremely intelligent Man. He was also a very kind and loving Man. I listen to your Words every night! They bring me such comfort and peace 🕊️ Don’t ever stop! It amazes me how you know every word of the Bible!, and what it means! What a Blessing 🙏 You have a Beautiful Family ❤️

“ I just listened to your daily reflection dedicated to your father from October 16th. I was greatly moved to tears. He reminded me of my own father who was always my biggest supporter throughout my life and never gave up on me even during one of the darkest times in my life when I almost gave up on myself. Thank you so much for sharing your memories of him and his accomplishments. I know that he must have been so proud of you. I pray that you feel the Lord's comfort especially during this time. I lost my father 2 years ago after a struggle with dementia and then liver cancer. He was almost 94 when he passed but I still felt like it was too soon. I will continue to pray for you and your family

“ On October 16, 2024, my husband and I were driving home to Irving, Texas following a dual purpose trip - watching our granddaughters so our daughter and her husband could get away to celebrate their 15th anniversary and checking in on my 93 year-old father-in-law who is not in good health. While John drove, I opened Hallow to complete my morning meditation. Before I knew it, you were taking me on a journey through my past - 24 years ago, I lost my father, who from your description of your dad, could have been my dad's a long, lost older brother.

Jeff, what a touching tribute you gave to your dad! Thanks for giving us a glimpse of what a special man he was and what a legacy he has left. God blessed you with a father who was loving, caring, compassionate, selfless, humble, big-hearted & forgiving. You didn't realize that when you were young but, in time, God gave you the wisdom to appreciate the big & little things your dad did for you. Through your dad, you learned about who Our Heavenly Father is and His generous love.

I was also blessed with a father who had special gifts like your dad. He passed away almost 8 years ago. I deeply miss him, his patient & gentle ways and always-smiling face.

I would like to thank you for your Daily Reflections on Hallow. Your Bible knowledge is immense and your wisdom is amazing. God gave you a special gift to be able to touch the hearts of so many people. You remind us daily to turn to God and the truth through His words.

May God continue to richly bless you and your family.

“ I wanted to extend my deepest condolences to your family for the loss of Robert Cavens. Though I didn't know him personally, I've been blessed by the way Jeff shares our faith through the Hallow app, and I'm sure he must have been a remarkable man to have raised such an inspiring son. Please know that I'm keeping you in my prayers during this difficult time. May God's grace bring you comfort and peace, and may His love surround you as you remember and celebrate your father's life.

With heartfelt prayers,

“ Jeff, thank you for sharing you father with us today. You are truly blessed to have had a dad as great as Robert. He prepared you well and set the stage for you to become the powerful evangelist that you are today and for that we are all very thankful. I miss my Pop terribly but I felt as though he was right here with me as your story unfolded. Thank you for that. Prayers to you and your family.

Your tribute effected me in ways I didn't at all expect and has been on my mind all day. So truly grateful that you and others on the Hallow app have become such an incredible part of my daily life. You have mentioned that we are the sum of the 5 people we spend the most time with each day. So truly blessed that you and Father Mike are part of those people I spend time with each day. You have changed my life and increased my faith.

“ I never knew Mr. Cavins but I feel as though I did through the stories of his son, Jeff Cavins, on Daily Reflections. The beautiful honesty about this father son relationship gives me hope that my husband's and son's relationship will one day be restored and resemble Jeff's and his Dad's. Thank you for sharing. I could hardly believe my ears this morning...

“ Prayers and condolences for the family. I did not know Mr. Cavins personally, but the fact that Jeff Cavins helps inspire so many people, including myself, with his daily podcast to follow Jesus truly shows what a wonderful man his dad was. “ My condolences for the Cavins family. Jeff, I so look forward to your daily reflections on the gospel. Today's caught me off guard! What a tribute to your dad! It brought back so many memories and similarities of my relationship with my dad, and today would have been his 92 birthday. When he unexpectedly passed at 69, I had lost my best friend. I'm from the Evansville area as well. I was listening to your reflection while driving to Madison IN to see my Godparents. My Godmother is in Hospice care and I was hoping she would recognize me and she did. My Godfather was a convert and is one of the greatest men I've ever known and best friend of my dad. I am blessed to have had such a role model father and Godfather! God is so good!! Keep up the good work! Prayers and Blessings for you and your family!

My condolences to you and your family. I listened to today's daily reflection and found it very touching but especially so when I realized it was also a eulogy. I am very sorry for your loss!

My father was similarly important in my life. Unfortunately my father died when I was 32. We also had our rough spots here and there but he was always there for me and I am glad to say I was there for him when he needed me at the end.

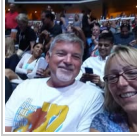

I grieved mightily at his death but I have found his presence in my life did not end at his death. The love he showed me and the many things he taught me are still there.

I thank him regularly when I realize his teaching and example still come shining through....The practice driving on an icy parking lot so I could automatically react properly when encountering icy roads has saved me more than once. Thank you Dad!..... Insisting I learn how to do things for myself, thank you Dad!How to go about making hard decisions, thank you Dad....Being an example of living a good and thoughtful life, thank you Dad!....Take heart! It never leaves you! He never leaves you!

Thank you Jeff Cavins for your thoughtful, candid and inspiring reflection today. It reminded me just how lucky I have been with my parents. I am sure your thoughts will touch many more people than just me! Some of your father came shining through you via today's daily reflection! Thank you Robert Cavins for producing your son Jeff!

My wife who starts her days listening to Hallow, told me about your tribute to your father and how moved she was. We listened again together tonight and cried together.

Thank you for sharing your Father with us. What a wonderful and remarkable man! It reminded me of my engineer father, the many buildings he designed and built around the world, the patents he held but mostly of his love for the Lord and his humble demeanor and desire to teach and guide the young.

May your Father find peace in the Light of the Lord.

Peace be with you and your Family.

“ I just listened twice, to your daily reflection on Hallow. What a beautiful tribute from a loving son to his father. While I've completed a few challenges on Hallow, I just recently felt drawn to listening to your daily reflections. Your tribute to your father brought tears to my eyes, both times! And it's also brought healing and reflection to my own heart. I can't begin to express how your Bible studies and reflections have affected me. “ My only memory is the one that Jeff so eloquently and lovingly shared today with his listeners. You help me every day with your reflections and today was so extra special by sharing such a wonderful and extraordinary man. I paused and reflected about my own life and my own dad. The memory is fully imprinted in my heart and I am eternally grateful for your love, inspiration and commitment to your dad, your family, and our faith. God bless you and the Cavins Family. God keep him and all of our dads in his arms and glory.

“ Dear Jeff & the Cavens Family,
I heard your dedication to your Dad this morning on Hallow. I was so touched by it that I wanted to send my love & prayers to you & your family .During your difficult days ahead, remember 2 things:
1. Wherever a beautiful soul has been, there is a trail of beautiful memories. You and your family are in my thoughts and prayers.
2. "Blessed are they who mourn, for they will be comforted".

Jeff you have led my closer to my Heavenly Father over the last few years. I thank God for everything that your earthly father instilled in you to lead us to Him. "Eternal rest grant unto him, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon him. May his soul and all the souls of the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. "

Jeff, today I listened to you on Hallow, as I start my day, and your beautiful tribute to your father made me think of my own father for the first time in a very long time. I have had mixed feelings always about my Dad. He was extremely strict, and we got harsh punishments. But he also had a soft side and he provided well for us 6 children. He only had high school education. He was a farm boy from Okla. He was self-made. He was abused as a child. (There's the strictness!) He died from Agent Orange, Viet Nam War. I want to give a donation to help educate someone's kid. Catholic education meant the world to me, and my Baptist Dad, saw to it that I had it. (He converted to Catholicism later.) I offered my Mass today for your Dad and your family. Thank you for the gift of you. You make my day start well!

“ Dear Jeff and family,
Sincerest condolences to you all on the sad, but joyous day of your father's funeral. Sad, to be sure, for those who love him and will miss him sorely. Joyous as well, for he goes Home to the One we all long to spend our Eternity with!
Your reflection today on Hallow was sublime, it touched me in the deepest depths of my soul.
How blessed you all are to have had him in your lives. And he was blessed too - with all of you.
Tomorrow i will try to navigate the first anniversary of my dear husband's departure from this life. It's going to be a hard day for me and all our kids and grandkids, to be sure. But the celebration of his first "Feast Day" will be bittersweet. He is hopefully saving my place there beside him!
My own father has been enjoying his eternity for 22 years, and i still miss him everyday. You will experience that as well. My prayers for his soul, and for your whole family are offered with the greatest confidence in our salvation through Jesus Christ! May God's peace be with you all!
Much love from Karen Cassity & family.

Hi Jeff, I have listened to your daily reflections for several years and your introductions for The Bible in a Year. Your insights have greatly impacted me. I am sorry for your loss. My thoughts and prayers go out to you and your family.

I actually got off track for a week or so, and have been listening to some other reflections I found, but for some reason this morning I decided to start listening to yours again. As I listened, I was in joyful tears, but when you got to the date, today Oct. 16th, it floored me. I remembered that my dad past away 9 years ago today. More tears. And he to had a profound influence on my faith. Thank you for all you do and sharing your father's stories with us. Withe much live,

After listening to Jeff’s tribute to his father in today’s gospel reflection, today is surely a celebration of a life well lived by you, the Lord’s good and faithful servant as you join our Lord and all the angels and saints at His table. Many of us did not have a dad as Jeff describes you to us. My own dad was an alcoholic, but through my mother’s answered prayers, my father came to know the Lord at age 55 and was never the same as he became a new creation in Christ. You were clearly a father that provided his children a real glimpse of the love of our Father in heaven. May the Lord provide comfort and peace for your family and all who knew and loved you like only He can provide. Peace be with you forever and ever.

“ Dear Jeff,

I hope it's okay to address you by your first name even though you don't know me at all! It's just that since I've been hearing your voice in my ears so much over the last year completing the Bible in a Year and Catechism in a Year podcasts and then for the last few months listening to your "Daily Reflections" on Hallow, your voice has become such a great comfort to me as I struggle to make my way back to a much better relationship with God and my Catholic faith again after so many years of "practical atheism" despite attending Mass with my loving wife of 41+ years and three children for such a long time.

More to the point, your "Daily Reflection" today on Hallow brought this nearly 65 year old man and father of three to tears, crying as I've not cried in a very, very long time, so much so that I felt compelled to reach out to you here to express my heartfelt condolences for the passing of your father Robert Cavins!

Listening to you talk so vividly of how he was truly an absolutely wonderful father and devout Catholic man, I know you and your siblings will miss him greatly, as will everyone who knew him in life. It is a virtual certainty that our Lord and savior has a loving welcome prepared for him in Heaven! May you, your wife Emily, and your whole family be comforted by having known this great man and thank you so, so much for sharing your wonderful story in today's Daily Reflection!

*God bless and keep you!

Dear Jeff, I try to never miss your daily reflections. Today, however; I overslept. That caused me to rush around in order to be ready for my ride to daily Mass. By the time I got back home, it was 11:00. I started my prayer routine and by the time I got to your reflection; it was 12:00. I live in Georgia, so that is EST.

When I pulled up your Dad's obituary and noted the service time, I realized I listened to your incredible reflection during the Mass for him. With tear-filled eyes, I felt as though I had been there with you.

Tear-filled, because I was seeing your father through the eyes of his son. It caused me to reflect on my own parents and their impact on my life. And on God the Father through His Son.

May God's grace wash over you and your family.

“ Jeff and family- i've been listening to your daily reflections for over a year now. Just want to let you know that it starts my day off while I'm taking care of my physical treatments. You have given me so much hope and knowledge and it brought me closer to God. I grew up Catholic. I am Catholic, but you have opened the door to learning more about the Bible and my relationship with the Lord. Your story touched my heart to the core and I could not hold back the tears as you spoke. I will not burden you with my long story about my relationship with my father, who is long gone. I'm hoping he's with the Lord now. I just wanted to let you know that both of your fathers, your Heavenly one first and your fraternal father raised you well. I'm so glad you had an opportunity to unload the burden that you carried in the relationship with your father. I truly believe that we will meet our parents again, but most of all it hit home on the relationship that you told that we have with our father in heaven and how it was, the son who sacrificed his life to tell the message of love from God. God bless you and know that you your family are in my prayers. 🙏💜

“Jeff, I just listened to the story you shared about your father on Hallow and it brought tears to my eyes (I still have them!). I hope everyone who has ever participated in and watched your Bible Timeline videos or listened to your Daily Reflections will have the opportunity to hear this beautiful story. Oh, what a man he was! You definitely pulled my heart strings and the memories of my humble father came flooding back to me. I also lost my father to a stroke in 2011. He lived a long and fruitful life til age 95, six years longer than my mother, after nearly 70 years of marriage. Our Catholic faith was the grounding focus of our large family. Today's message from you will remain with me a very long time.

I'm sure this will be a day of sadness and joy, as you and your father's family and friends tell stories of 'the man' who left an indelible mark on everyone he encountered. Maybe you can share some of these recollections with us one day. My prayers are with you!

Jeff, I can only add to what these others have said about your dad. As I've listened to your reflections today on hello memories of my dad showing through. He was also a lot like your dad except my dad did not have the education that your dad was able to have. he had quadruple bypass surgery also but died at the age of 77 in 1996. He was the Lord of my life. I think relationships with daughters are different than those with sons, the expectations the hopes and dreams for your kids. My dad was this smartest man I know And I love him dearly and I miss him now. Please know that my prayers are with you strength and I know you will take care of your mom and your sisters just as he asked. I'll be with you today and always.

*“ By the grace of God I listened to your touching tribute to your dad during adoration this morning.
When I got home from church, my 18-year-old son, who's on the spectrum, chose to bike instead of having us drive him the ten miles to his destination. Since he's building his confidence and independence, I didn't want to say no. Inspired by your father's example of following you on your long run, I decided to keep an eye on him from a distance. I'm really thankful I did, as he got lost and ended up on an unsafe road for bikes and I was able to help him.
Through you, your father will live on and impact the lives of so many people. May he rest in peace and my prayers to you and your family and all his friends. God Bless You.*

“ May God bless you with abundant grace and peace today and always Cavins family! I did not know your father, but his story reminds me of mine whom I lost in 2008. Truly he was a child of God, and I'm so thankful for him. His beacon of faith and love for our Lord Jesus Christ reached all the way to strangers like me, and you should know I share in your loss and will keep you all in my prayers. Thank you, Cavins family, for letting your Dad's heart be a gift and testament. Take refuge in our Lord, and as me, let's all wait in joyful hope for the day when you'll see him again! May your days be filled with fond memories, love, and laughter as you send your Dad into the loving arms of Christ! And may the love and grace of God be with you today and always.

I thought of my own father throughout today’s reflection and it was so emotional and moving. My dad was a humble man as well and he and my mother’s greatest legacy was their faith. “ Prayers for you and your family. He sounds like my father. Very humble, loving and caring. My father was a teacher and it was only after he passed that I realized how much he had me and how much I missed his wisdom. Nine years ago I lost my wife very suddenly and I never got to tell her how much she changed and guided me. It’s the memories that have strengthened me these past nine years. I still hear their voices, my wife and my father, in my mind and heart when I am faced with decisions I need to make.

Thank you for sharing thoughts on your dad today on Hallow in a very loving, heartfelt tribute to him. I also heard you talk about your dad and his influence a few months ago when I was being drawn (by what I believe to be the Holy Spirit) to examine the Catholic faith after many years in non-denominational Protestant churches - your story resonated with my personal testimony and is a part of my journey to recently return home as a Catholic Christian. “ I was listening to your daily program today. I was curious about the title and what you might speak on. Needless to say, I was saddened, by your loss. But at the same time, I was giving glory to God, for your dad and what you shared with us today. That one line got me, that it took the son to reveal the Father. If any fruit came from this, is that I need to reveal my Father to the world. I feel too many of us don't speak enough or even speak at all about our Heavenly Father. We keep the “talent” buried. Thank you, Jeff. I mean that. And now, eternal rest grant him, O Lord, may the soul of your faithful departed rest in peace. Grace and peace to your family, Jeff.

“ My condolences to the Cavins family. I just got done with my daily reflection on the Hallow app after missing 4 days. In the course of those 4 days, I had a few painful and hurtful arguments with my own father. As I listened to the reflection, I first began to cry at your storytelling of the kind of relationship you had with your father growing up. I was crying for myself, never having known the cohesiveness of an intact family and a father’s love and protection. As I continued to listen with bated breath for the end of your story, I began to cry for him as he lost his independence and livelihood. It brought me back to my mother who was diagnosed with early onset Alzheimer’s at 57 and lost her career as a registered nurse. I too, had to take away her driving privileges, and it broke my heart to watch her mental and physical decline. As you continued to share with the world who your father really was, I then began to cry for you. The emotion in your voice was raw and evident. Some of my tears were that of joy at the reconciliation you had with your father regarding the night before leaving for Dallas. But some of the tears were pure heartache at the loss of such a wonderful, devoted, devout husband, father and member of the community. No truer words have been spoken that no one knows the Father except through the Son. Rest easy, Mr. Robert Cavins for you are surely in the presence of God now.

“ Jeff- your father must be so proud. Look at all of the people you keep strong in Christ and the Catholic faith. I'm sorry for your loss and know the man you are is in large part due to such a wonderful father. Thank you for sharing this on this tough day. I'm so happy you let all of us on Hallow share in this moment with you. Heather

“ My condolences to the Cavins family. Jeff, this was a beautiful tribute to your Dad this morning on Hallow. Although I did not know your Dad, in 21 minutes I knew more about him than some people I know. You have taught a true life lesson--to get to know the people around you and not just breeze past them. It may turn out to be your biggest blessing. My prayers are with the entire family. God Bless you.

“ Jeff, you are truly changing the lives of people through your work! Your tribute to your father is beautiful. I too still talk about my father whom I lost July 23, 2022 at the age of 92. I am blessed to have had him in my life for 72 years. Mom is still with us at 94. I introduced you to my mom a few months ago on You Tube and she is a true fan. She loves your voice! Father Mike “talks too fast!” God bless you and Emily and all of your family. You bring God to so many people every day. There are not enough words to thank you!

“ Thank you for sharing the beautiful story of your father's life, a devoted father and husband, and a humble genius. What a tremendous blessing to you and others to have him in your lives. He likely touched more lives than you'll ever know. My parents grew up in Melrose, Iowa, just 14 miles east of Chariton, my dad was three years older than your father. As small towns go I imagine our parents or grandparents may have known each other. I will keep your family in my prayers. May your beautiful memories comfort you at this difficult time.

Eternal rest grant unto him, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon him. May his soul and all the souls of all the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace.

“ My condolences to you and your family Jeff. I follow you daily on Hallow and while reading your "Daily Reflection" I did not catch on right away that it was an actual obituary. While I was reading I was in awe at how blessed you were to have had such an amazing father. My father was in my life and while I have spent a lifetime dealing with this void, I am at peace. When you spoke of your dad following you with the car as you went for your 20 mile jog, it reminded me of all the times that God has followed me through my life, although un seen, making sure I was alright. Thank you Jeff for your devotion to teaching and spreading the word of our Father's love. Your dad was a good man and a beautiful human being. As they say, the apple doesn't fall far from the tree, the world is a better place for having you both in it! May all the memories that you have gathered through the years bring you love and peace.

“ Dear Jeff, Your daily reflection on Hallow about your father brought me here too. I am a recent convert from the Christian Reformed child, and you have helped me deepen my faith. Your example was part of my accepting the full truth of the Church, and I can't thank you enough for that.

You have my sincere condolences, as I feel I know you both now through your tribute. I think it's fitting that your dad went to the arms of Jesus on the day we remember Blessed Carlo Acutis. Carlo could not have done the work he did without your dad's part in creating the microchip. Given what you said, that's certainly how he would have wanted it to be. Here's to Bob, and all the fathers, who stay in the dim light without recognition, and who quietly set the stage for their kids and their spiritual children to achieve their callings,

I'm a dad myself, and you touched my heart deeply with your story. May the Lord bless and sustain you, and your whole family today. You are in my prayers on this sad day. I'm sure Bob is applauding quietly on the other side of the veil and telling the Holy Trinity and all the other saints how proud he is of you, Jeff. - In Christ, Rick Corliss (Roseville, MN) - rcorliss@gmail.com

“ My condolences to Jeff and family. What a beautiful tribute Jeff did on Hallow and Jeff’s daily reflections are so good and so personal that they reveal so much of that father-son relationship. I imagine it takes a great deal of work and sacrifice to do what you do to spread the gospel and hearing about Jeff’s dad I completely understand the spirit of love and dedication behind it. Thank God for you and may He continue to bless you and give you strength.

I learned from Henri Nouwen that our greatest gifts generally are realized after our death. I experienced the truth and beauty of that proclamation after my father's death. Jeff, what a beautiful tribute to your beloved Dad! I'm still crying as I think of the beautiful soul your Father was. As I was listening, I thought about my own father that I never met and the abusive stepfather who followed. How I longed for a father with a fraction of the love and integrity of yours. There is so much all of us can do to help children and adults who are hurting because they did not have a Dad like yours. Blessings to you and your family as you honor the life and memory of your remarkable Dad!

“*Thank you, Father, for this man's life who brought so much joy to his family and us who never knew him. Yet we do now, because of the son, Jeff Cavins, and his loving words of tribute on Hallow today. I am crying my heart out at the beauty of healing Jeff spoke of, the honor of a humble life lived to please You, our Almighty FATHER. Let me be a light for others to know You, Lord, as Father. “ Dearest Jeff and family of Robert Cavins,
As I finish my Hallow morning time, I feel as if I know you Jeff, because you are in my living room every morning and I anxiously await Gods lessons through your voice!!
God is personal to you, real and alive in you!
Because of that, God the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are illuminated in my life!
I thank your father and mother for leading you to the true way to Christ, but I also thank you for having the courage to follow Gods plan for you as you left, learned and returned to the true way!!! You are a powerful and gifted teacher....a true disciple. Your path was exactly what it needed to be and your dad knew you'd be back!!!
I have lived that same scenario and I too returned to the Catholic Church after 10 years at a non-domination church and my parents still living today 89 and 91 pledged they would not leave this earth until I came back. Parents of that era have something that is missing today, and people like you are continuing the legacy of your dad and what he wanted to share with all for salvation. May your dad rest in peace, and may the perpetual light shine upon him as I know it will and he will be in my prayers every day as I remember those who have passed , and because of you, he is now on my tongue as I pray, for those who have died before me. I will never forget the deceased, until Jesus finally comes all need prayers, the living and the dead. I look forward to talking to you tomorrow morning in my living room, feeling even closer to you and knowing who you are, your dad will remain in your soul until you are joined with him in heaven, but your heart will be sad down here because it will ache for the thing that's missing - that is your dad!!

Your Dad was a wonderful, loving family man. I mourn for your loss. I also mourn the way I wish my family lineage could have been. My Dad was a humble man who was raised extremely harshly as a boy. “ Wow oh wow Jeff. I listen to you every morning but today has been more profound ever. I suffer from wounds and struggle to accept the love of God as I am. But your reflection or should I say eulogy, was a flame ignited that the whole purpose is Jesus pointing towards the Father and how all he does is because of His love for me. Why I couldn't grasp this before. But maybe through you precious father's life and your reflection this is the good that came out of it. I want to thank you for sharing this. My father died 55 years ago this Saturday, October 19th, at the age of 37 leaving behind the love of his life and 6 children, me being the fifth at 8 years old. “ Jeff, thank you for the beautiful reflection. I'm glad I listened to today's reflection. It was a beautiful tribute to your father. It brought me tears on the way to work. It reminded me how I wish I spent more time with my father when he was alive and told him that I loved him. I'm very sorry for your loss.

Jeff, I'm so sorry for your loss. Such a wonderful tribute to your Dad. I don't know how you were able to speak without crying. The Holy Spirit filled your heart and gave you the strength to speak so lovingly. I feel as if I know you personally because of listening to you daily for years. My prayers are with you and your family and I'm praying for the repose of your wonderful Dad's soul. May he Rest In Peace and share the banquet table with Jesus and God our Father.

“ Hi Jeff, I have always known you, not personally though but through the Hallow app. I live in the Philippines and it is my habit after work to listen to your daily reflection, today's episode brought me to tears. I hope that our Father, our Lord, covers you and your family with peace during this time of mourning. Take care and godbless

“ Jeff this may seem very random but I have just listened to your very moving reflection on Hallow and had to express my sympathy for your loss. You have been blessed to have had such an inspiring father and I can't imagine how heavy your heart must feel right now. Keeping your family in my prayers, thank you for sharing your beautiful words about your father. He was an amazing man.

Dear Jeff,

I listen to you every day on the Hallow App, and today's reflection truly moved me. Your words about your father resonated deeply, and I can only imagine the weight on your heart during this incredibly difficult time. Please know that I am keeping you and your family in my thoughts and prayers as you navigate this profound loss.

My heartfelt condolences to you. Thank you for sharing such a personal part of yourself with us—your father's life and legacy are truly inspiring. He was an amazing man, and his spirit will undoubtedly live on through the love you carry in your heart.

With deepest sympathy,
Lani

“ My heart is heavy in hearing of the loss of your father because of the stories you told of him over these many years, and the gifts he imparted to you. You are a good man because he was a good man. The Church has been blessed by you, in large part because of him. Be assured of the prayers of our family, for Robert and for you all.
