“ What moves through us is a silence, a quiet sadness, a longing for one more day, one more word, one more touch, we may not understand why you left this earth so soon, or why you left before we were ready to say goodbye, but little by little, we begin to remember not just that you died, but that you lived, and that your life gave us memories too beautiful too forget~ WE MISS YOU!!

“ We really missed you today for the rehearsal! It was like reliving it all over again; just as Stephanie wasn't at Leslie's wedding, now neither you nor Stephanie are at Tasha's. It just doesn't seem complete! But we know you are both smiling down and chuckling at how nervous and excited everyone is! And your dry cleaning lady really thinks a lot of you too, she pressed my dress today and had nothing but good to say about you and Terri! You have definitely left your mark on this world. I love you.

“ Bob, I hope everything is well with you now and that you've adjusted to your new surroundings. Sorry I couldn't be there for your family in their time of need. I didn't find out until after the fact and I take full responsibility for that. I should have been in better contact with everyone. Anyway, I'm really excited for this weekend when I get to see the whole family for Tasha's wedding day. Hopefully the weather will cooperate. Maybe you could do something about that! :) Please continue to look over your family. They'll always need you. See you on the other side some day!

“ Hi Bob, It has been one rough week for me just thinking of all the yeras we had in life. I know you are at peace now but it is so hard to understand the cards dealt in life. You are now with our Snickerdoodle, your Mom & my Dad. The kids & I were going through albums & saw a photo of you age 22 hands folded, legs crossed in deep thought. We all just laughed because Travis looks just like that photo of you with lighter hair. How odd going through the albums & seeing Becky signing the guest book. Please watch over us Bob with Snickeddoodle to keep the whole blended families safe. Give Snickerdoodle a hug from me.

“ No small wonder that Bob was the musical director for his church. He always had a substantial and somewhat spiritual presence, even in the fun and lighthearted world of old rock 'n' roll. We worked together for several years in a group known as Teen King. Bob had a great and dry sense of humor which always kept one from taking themselves too seriously. He was truly an asset to anyone who ever worked with him. Patrick Fitz

“ I had the Very Fortunate experience of working with Bob as a fellow musician with the Generators from around 2000 to 2002 and later as a guest artist on one of his CD's. He was truly a gentleman. Always polite and kind, he had a strong sense of integrity about him. Bob's positive influence on all of us began with his creative talent, his complimentary approach toward fellow musicians and his strong work ethic to always be prepared with the music. He is one of the most talented and professional keyboardists I've known and a pleasure to work with. Later on, when we would go out to see him in Soul Tight, he always noticed when we were there and made a point to walk up and say hello. The kind eyes, his big smile and of course, his thick hair! Bob had the look and personality, as well as the talent! Our heart goes out to you Terry, his children and everyone in his family. His spirit lives on, that's for sure!Forrest (Frosty) AtkinsonEast Bethel, MN

I had the pleasure of working with Bob in The Cleavettes about 35 years ago and admired his talent back then, he kept getting better and better over the years. But more important was the type of person he was; kind, gentle, easy to talk with, very subtle sense of humor and all around good guy. We will all miss him very much. “ Tim and I saw Bob and Terri only on rare occasions, but when we did we visited as if we had just seen each other yesterday, as if we had always known each other - down to earth, warm and wonderful people. We will miss Bob, and it is way too soon to be saying that. We hope Terri can find some comfort from our support and friendship. Tim and Bob go back to middle school and Tim has many pleasant memories of their friendship and about Bob and his involvement with music-always. We used to watch him play in a band when we were dating and just married (30 years ago). Bob had talent and a passion for music and we are glad that he was able to pursue it. We will miss him and cherish the times we did get to share with him.

“ *Tim and I saw Bob and Terri only on rare occasions, but when we did we visited as if we had just seen each other yesterday, as if we had always known each other - down to earth, warm and wonderful people. We will miss Bob, and it is way too soon to be saying that. We hope Terri can find some comfort from our support and friendship. “ My sincere condolences to the Robert Pontious family. When I was in middle school I was a friend of Valerie's and whenever Bob was around, I was of course in awe of him. He had a passion for music like no other & I can still remember listening to he & his band play. May the legacy of his gifts and talents live on in his family. Cheers to a life well lived. “ Terri,Our sympathy from the cousins in Idaho, we have appreciated so much the contact through CaringBridge and email with Bob. His musical talents continue to be mentioned and recalled by so many close friends and relatives so if another CD is made, let us know so we we can think of Bob for years to come as we listen to his music. Terri do recall and find the comfort in the great times you had together with Bob, those are treasured memories. So glad to hear you and Karen S. are in contact so just know the Pontious Clan (or cousins)are thinking of you and we all care about you too!

“ There a lot of good things associated with the name Bob Pontious. I've never seen that man rude to any one or talk bad about any one. He was very respectful and had a pleasant personality. We usually say a person was good after they pass but Bob deserved that when he was alive and after he passed. I hope God gives his family strength to get through these difficult times. He was a good and honest friend. I'm glad that I had the chance to enjoy his company. Even though he was in pain, he rarely showed it. You were a very good man and will be missed dearly.
