“ Roger Dooner was a genuine friend and loyal supporter of great music, including being the cofounder of the Dick Haymes Society. I first contacted him when I was in college and inquired about the Dick Haymes Society. He was supportive, helpful and always there to have a phone conversation. He was a true believer of Jesus Christ and he truly lived his Christianity. Roger was there when it came to lending a helping hand. I recall how he helped me multiple times during my musical projects involving David Allyn, Dick Haymes Jr. and Frank Griffith. He was a very charitable man, always there to help both financially and with great advice. Roger, I know you are now with the Lord Jesus Christ. I am sure he is telling you now what a great job you did. God Bless you and your family.
