“Rosemary Booth and her cousin (my late mother), Lois Elsa Young, always called each other "the sister they never had!" Our families enjoyed periodic get-togethers, and it was always a treat when my sister and I got to take the Greyhound bus from Hutchinson to Minneapolis to spend a few days with the Booths. I learned a few salty words from Rosemary (especially when she was driving!), but mostly I learned to appreciate her intelligence, informed engagement in civic affairs, and wry sense of humor. As she and my mother advanced in age, Rosemary's daughter DeeDee and I enjoyed arranging periodic get-togethers, including two memorable "field trips" to Duluth. These two "tough old Swedes" were a great pair to the end of their long and wonderful lives! I miss them both.
