“ Dear Streitmatter family,

It has been many years since I have seen any of you or your dear Mom—likely almost since she moved to the Cities after your Dad’s death. I woke up today for some reason thinking of the gatherings my parents used to have at our home when we were kids. Among others I thought of your parents and I searched to recall when your Dad died...and read of the recent death of your Mom and wanted to send you my condolences and best wishes.

I remember your parents’ many visits to our home for bridge or other occasions. I remember both of their big smiles and laughs as they came into our home and throughout the evenings of play. I also remember visiting your Dad’s store many times with my Dad over the years.

I am sure you have countless treasured memories with your Mom during her long and good life. You are in my thoughts and prayers.
