“There are people whose goodness and compassion are like sunlight streaming through an open window.” This describes our mother/ grandmother perfectly. Our hearts are heavy and our souls are weakened with sorrow, but she had a good life and her spirit will live on in us. Mom/ Gran will be remembered and kept in our memories forever...It gives us peace and comfort knowing she is now in the arms of her beloved husband, Ron, whom has waited forty years to be reunited with his bride.

Bob and Kim I am so sorry to hear about your Mom I just lost mine in November and I know that it is one of the hardest things to go through. The one thing you will have forever are the memories and to know that she will always look over you forever. God bless you and your family at this time and forever.
