“ It happens so suddenly when we realize there is never enough time. These terrible events reminding us we are but moments intersecting briefly in life. When you're descriptors are mother, sister, wife and friend, you leave behind an iron strong legacy constructed from the unconditional love you have shown the people around you. My heart aches for your husband and daughters. It seems the Klick Christmas Party is getting crowded on the other side.

“ Sally was a wonderful friend to me and I am very saddened to hear of her passing. Some of my fondest memories of Sal were us fishing way up north one summer, it was my first big fishing trip, we had such a blast. I didn't know it at the time but she secretly took my biggest catch and had it stuffed for me. It was the most thoughtful gift I've ever received and it still hangs on my wall today. I am sending Brad and the girls a hug and my love through this note, and I am wishing you all as much peace and healing during this difficult time.

“ To Brad and the twins: I am so very sorry to hear of the passing of Sally. I spent many a day at the house in NE when I was single, and you two were first married, and she was always a delight to be around. I also remember a weekend trip to the lake where Brad and I stayed out fishing all night, and there on the dock at 5 in the morning, as we rolled toward her on the pontoon, she was waiting, hands on her hips. First she made sure we were OK, and then she yelled at us for being OK and worrying her sick. Keep those good memories alive always. She was a great lady.

“ Though we were miles apart and didn't chat often, I always thought about you. Sally was the most loving and giving person I have ever known. When my dad passed, it was Sally and Aunt Renee who came. We will never forget the wonderful impression that you left on our family. My children thought you were the greatest cousin ever. They loved the fact that you spoke your mind. You were a true Klick. Sally, you will be missed greatly by so many, because you have touched the hearts of so people during your very short lifetime. I know that you will continue to watch over your family, and that you are now at peace. Give my love to our parents when you see them. We love you Sally.
