“ You die on Mother's Day, and also on Steve and Cindy's 23rd wedding anniversary. Then you are buried on Dot and Joe's wedding anniversary.

You made certain we would never forget you, dear Scott. My, you are really an unforgettable piece of work. And now, from all the parents who have been a part of your life, we want to thank you for being a part of ours. Mr. Unforgettable, that's you!

To Scott's friends:

From boyhood to young men and now to the nice people you have become, seldom will we see a finer group of gentlemen.

“ Enough has been said about how Scott could light up a room and make everyone happy around him. This is what most us will remember and cherish about Scott. I'd also like to mention two other Weasel traits that were important to me. First, he was smart. Sure, it takes a pretty good mind to get a degree in physics from SJU, but more importantly, Scott understood the complexities of people. He could really empathize with the feelings and thoughts of others. Secondly, the Weasel was loyal as a dog. He could certainly get you in a jam, but more likely he was a guy you wanted on your side when things were tough. For all of these reasons, Scott was a great friend. I miss him dearly.

“ I met Weasel in 7th grade at Central Junior High School by playing blackjack in the school cafeteria. We were friends every since and was on the ice when WBL Bears hockey team beat Tartan high school and Weasel was the hero, scoring 2 goals within some 30 seconds. We went to St. John's University together trying to pass our physics course and we eventually did get our degrees. Finally, we both struggled together in the last couple of years with unemployment. Scott was a true friend that was always there for you.

Many prayers out to you Scott and we will hook-up when my time is up.

“ Nearly all of my fondest memories in life involve Scott, in some way or another. I was able to experience a great many things I would not have otherwise because of Scott. He brightened everyone's day and everybody looked forward to the next "Weasel adventure." That's Scott. I will miss him tremendously.

“ I have only the fondest memories of Scott. I loved it when he would hang out at our house on Hobe Lane in WBL. Scott was always so funny and so nice to my sister Meagan and me. Takes a pretty special guy to make his friend's little sisters feel like "part of the gang"...

“ I'm finally coming to the realization that Scott really is gone. What a terrible loss. There are so many great and funny memories of spending time with Weasel. From hanging out in highschool & trips to St. John's to times at the cabin with the extended Houle family and all of the weddings, parties, concerts... Scott was such a good friend to us. When Scott arrived, you knew it was going to be fun. He made you feel comfortable and at ease, often at his own expense, in a self deprecating, funny way. Sometimes he and I would laugh so hard that we'd be crying. Well, I'm crying now. I will miss Scott forever.

“ Scott has been a friend of mine since the first day we met - he took me on a road trip to WI that I will never forget! It was easy to be entertained by him and have been laughing with him ever since. We shared so many good times together, I couldn't possible begin to write them all down. He had that special gift of making everyone he met feel welcome, special, and comfortable in his company. Weasel has given me special memories to enjoy for the rest of my life, and for that, I am forever grateful. Thank you Scott! I am just one person of many who will miss you very,very much! Dan Tennyson.

one of his days on earth.

“ Scott was a classmate of mine at St. John's University. It was during our Junior year 84-85 that I got to know Scott. He was a great storyteller and loved to light it up around others.

He had the uncanny ability to warm up to anyone and make them laugh. It has been sometime since I've talked to or seen him, but his smile and laugh bring back wonderful memories.

Losing a classmate at St. John's is like losing a brother. My prayers and thoughts are with Scott and his family.
