Shirley will be remembered as a dedicated, generous and genuine friend. She was always willing to help out those close to her whenever possible. She was blessed with the ability to talk easily and connect with anyone. Her friendships and family were very important to her; she never missed acknowledging a single birthday, anniversary, or significant event in life with a phone call or card. In recent years, she became interested in professional football and many awaited weekly updates on her favorite teams.

Additionally, Shirley was a very devoted daughter. She lived with, travelled alongside and cared for her mother, Mary, for years. She loved sending out postcards of her adventures, even if it was only around Minnesota.

Shirley always had a specific passion for children. Before retirement she worked for Ramsey county in the child support and welfare department. In her personal relationships, there was never a shortage of special games, crafts or activities for kids when she was around. She was very close with her nieces and has been an honorary "grandma" to many.

Her family and friends will forever cherish the memories they have with Shirley, and she will be missed dearly.
