“ To the Casey family. Losing someone you love is never an easy thing. The sorrow you feel at times seems to fill you, and loneliness follows you like a shadow. As time passes, sorrow fades and the shadow shortens. It's always hard to hear that it will get easier, but it does. Susan is now with our Lord and she no longer has any fears or pains, wants or woes... Praise God and smile! Such joy we will all know in God's time. My prayers go out to you for Gods blessings.

To the Casey family, our family wishes to extend to you our sincerest sympathy at this truly difficult time in all of your lives. I am holding your family up in prayer and asking God to be with all of you today, tomorrow, and in the days, weeks, months and even years ahead. May the memories you all shared with your Mother sustain you during this time. And while it seems that she is forever gone to you physically, please, please always remember that she lives on through each of you in your hearts and in the memories you treasure of her. Her light shines and lives on in each of you because each of you came from her. Carry on the legacy she left behind of love, laughter and the importance of family. And, always know that even when it seems she is most gone to you from this world that she walks healthy and vibrantly on ever present in the LIGHT as an angel now, watching over all of you, and touching base with each of you when you need it most.. I wanted to share a poem.

In The Light

*A shadow of joy flickered; it is me.
I told you I wouldn't leave.
My spirit is with you.
My memories, my thoughts are imbedded deep in your heart.
I still love you.*

*Do not for one moment think that you have been abandoned.
I am in the Light.*

*In the corner,
in the hall,
the car,
the yard --
these are the places I stay with you.*

*My spirit rises every time you pray for me,
but my energy comes closer to you.
Love does not diminish,
it grows stronger.*

*I am the feather that finds you in the yard,
the dimmed light that grows brighter
in your mind,*

*I place our memories for you to see.
We lived in our special way,
a way that now has its focus changed.*

*I still crave your understanding and long for the many words of prayer and good fortune for my soul.
I am in the Light.*

*As you struggle to adjust without me,
I watch silently.
Sometimes I summon up all the strength of my new world
to make you notice me.
Impressed by your grief,
I try to impress my love deeper into your consciousness.*

*As you should,
I call out to the Heavens for help.
You should know that the fountain of youth
does exist.*

*My soul is now healthy.
Your love sends me new found energy.
I am adjusting to this new world.
I am with you and I am in the Light.*

*Please don't feel bad that you can't see me.
I am with you wherever you go.
I protect you,
just as you protected me so many times.*

*Talk to me and somehow I will find a way to answer you.
Mother, father, son or daughter
it makes no difference.
Brother, sister, lover,
husband or wife, it makes no difference.*

*Whatever our connection-friend or even foe-
I see you with my new eyes.
I am learning to help wherever you are,
where ever I am needed.
This can be done because I am in the Light.*

*When you feel despair, reach out to me.
I will come.*

Our love for you truly does transcend from Heaven to Earth.

Finish your life with the enthusiasm and zest that you had when we were together in the physical sense.

*You owe this to me, but more importantly,
you owe it to yourself.*

*Life continues for both of us.
I am with you because I love you and I am in the Light.*
