“ Memories.... You have left behind so many great ones. Best Friends in Grade School and into high school. I think if you often, but somehow we lost touch. I will cherish the times we spent together forever. They make me smile and laugh. I know that you have left a big void in the lives of so many people, but you are now at home and have a great opportunity to be every where at the same time. Say "hi" to my mom and dad and to Ron. I know that they will great you with open arms.

“ My sister, my friend, my ear when nobody understood. You did things with me to help me stay sober. I thank you for that. So so many memories. Watching you put on make up when I was a lil girl and wondering what all that stuff was. But it sure made you look different. Some things have not changed. Your make up was a hoot. I am so happy both of us knew God and I know you are with me now. Say hi to mom and dad and my other day too. I will miss you everyday sister. I love you with all of my heart. I will see again my love.
