“ Terry and I not only worked with each other we became good friends. It was amazing how our personal lives mirrored each other. He has 3 daughters and a son, I have four daughters. We would go to lunch and I would get to hear about what was new in the families lives. The thing that strikes me most is that each child had a very special quality in his eyes Brianna on how well she and Drew were making their marriage work, Katlynn was always the one with no fear, she could handle herself in any situation, Haillie on how similar she was to him on her outspokenness. He was always concerned for Tami any time she traveled that she would be safe. He always wanted to sound like a big tough guy but in reality he was one of the kindest souls anyone could hope to encounter. I will truly miss our lunches and know he is in a better place.
