Little did I know when I met Terry in high school that he would become my brother-in-law. During the 45 yrs he was married to Kate, I watched their love story deepen with each passing year.

Terry's professional career was focused on making effective and humane strides in the treatment of mental illness. He was respected and recognized as an expert in the field, which he humbly accepted.

Terry's most significant contribution to my life was teaching us the football hold to calm a fussy baby! For children and three grands later, the hold was used often, with a whispered thanks to him each time. Thank you, Terry!

“ If I was talking to myself, the printer, or the computer I could count on Terry to walk through the door; he was pretty darn stealthy. As busy as he was; Terry would always ask how you were, send out a "thank-you for your years of service" email and he even took the time to listen to my ideas (very, very long term goal) of winning the lottery and buying all the vacant buildings in MN to turn them into affordable housing. When I shared my opportunity to run a Board & Lodge; he encouraged me and even told me "I think you'll do great". It was my pleasure to have known and worked for such a kind and caring person; he definitely had a heart for people. He will be missed

“ Terry was an innovative champion for services for adults with mental illness. Terry's visionary spirit and unwavering commitment to improving behavioral health were truly remarkable. I worked for Terry at ReEntry House and at RADIAS Health, he was a great teacher and didn't mince words. At times frustrating, but often inspirational, I learned a lot working with him.

A trailblazer in the field, Terry was an early adopter of housing first principles, always pushing the boundaries to find new and effective solutions. His confidence and daring approach made a lasting impact, inspiring those around him. Personally, Terry taught me the value of daring to try new ideas in behavioral health, inspiring change and fostering progress. His legacy is one of dedication, compassion, and a relentless pursuit of better mental health support.

Let us remember and celebrate Terry M Schneider for his profound contributions to the field, his vibrant spirit, and the countless lives he touched. May his innovative and lighthearted approach continue to inspire us all. Condolences to his family, friends, and everyone who had the privilege of knowing him.
