“ To my grandmother, A woman of faith, Strength, Humor, kindness, and an undying love of Bingo and Keno. Though I was only a small child a core memory of my grandma beyond, her flower gardens, making beads out of potatoes, and her daily 5+ mile walks, was the Christmas that her 9 kids got together and got Grandma and Grandpa their own real life retired Keno machine, and the first thing grandma did was turn to grandpa and say, "Bob give me a quarter". I learned many things from my grandma, but I learned the most important lesson yet from her, that no matter what life bring keep being authentically yourself and the people who are meant to be in your life will be.
