“ For some reason I found myself reflecting upon positions I have held over the past 30 years+ & the people that I had encountered along the way. My paths crossed with "Doc" while I was employed by EDCO from the early 90's to early 00's. Doc manned the Custom shop and did so with great rigidity. He took his job seriously & made sure you were aware of the limitations of the shop & his equipment. He could have been boastful but wasn't. He could have been gentler but wasn't. He was an incredibly intelligent guy with passion for history - which I utilized to change a subject if he got a little heated. He made my position in Sales more enjoyable & I appreciate the indelible mark he left - enough to share his memory. God Bless Doc and his family. JJ
