“ Wade was one of the first fellow Sherlockians we met when we joined the Norwegian Explorers, way back when we were part of a more intimate monthly study group. He was so welcoming to us, and I'm so sorry to hear of his passing.

“ The first time I met Wade was when Teresa and I had dinner with him and Mary...I had just started dating Teresa and he used the opportunity to size me up...see if I was good enough for her...he chatted me up about my job...quizzed me on my knowledge of history and Teresa told me later...even watched to see what kind of drink I ordered...had to be a manly drink. Thankfully I passed muster with him...He was a kind and generous man and always interested in what you had going on. He will be missed...
